

WEEKLY INSIGHT #1 – ENERGY TRENDS TOWARDS 2060

Posted on September 15, 2020

Category: Newsletters

Final energy demand is expected to increase at least by a third towards 2060. If no major shift in policies is made and current trends continue, fossil fuels will remain the norm in global energy production.

The time is ripe for major and structural changes.